THE DUTY IS TO REMAIN ON COAL in good circumstances.

But Iron Ore Will Be Admitted Free. Sugar Cuts No Figure in the Case. The Senate Provisions on Woolens and Cotton Goods Are Cut Into but Little-The House Gives Way to the Senate in Nearly Every Instance.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 8. THE "tomorrow" upon which the tariff conferees have been for weeks promising an agreement at last gives promise of fulfill-ment. When the tariff conferees ad-journed at a few minut-s before 6 clock tonight it was with the understanding that at the session tomorrow morning all the details should be arranged and the R-publicans were called in, in the afternoon, and informed of what their Democratic colleagues had done. One of the most prominent managers on the part of the senate made the emphatic statement that tomorrow would see the edd of the conference, and that by night there would be either an agreement or a general break up of the conference But one thing, he said, could postpone the result any longer.

Should the house conferees agree to an agreement, and the agreement of the details consume such time as to that would be permitted, but other-wise the close of tomorrow would wit-ness the end of the conferces on the teriff bill. So little is yet to be accomplished, however, that there is every likilhood that the Republicans can be called in at an early hour, and there would be no surprise if the senate should have the report of the conferees at a reasonably early hour in the after-

TRON ORE TO BE FREE

The hitch that still remains for setthement is iron ore and coal. So far as Crippie Creek, and their sympathizers the principle is concerned, these items either in high or low positions, the execuseem to be disposed of finally, one of the state not excepted, as we shall seem to be disposed of finally, one of seem to be disposed of finally, one of deem guilty of crimes against law abiding them is to be free and the other made citizens of the United States, where human dutiable. These matters were the lives have been wantonly sacrificed, real subject of three distinct changes to-At 5 p. m. it was decided that iron ore should be made free absolutely and that coal should retain the rate of 40 cents a ton fixed by the senate for a period of five years, at the end of which time it was to be free Subsequently a proposition was made to fix a sliding scale that should reduce the duty a specific percentage each year. This was antagonized, but the house men, anxious to gain as much in the way of concession as possible, persisted and the result was that this matter was left until tomorrow morn ing for final decision.

At the conclusion of the conference one of the managers on the part of the senate said that if there was an agreement the sugar schedule would remain as it was published by the United Press Friday of last week, to wit, 40 per cent. on raw sugar, 40 per cent, on the raw sugar in the refined and one-fifth of a cent differential on refined anger.

SUGAR CUTS NO FIGURE.

As far, then, as sugar is concerned, it has cut no figure in the conference and is looked upon by the conferrees as

Lead ore, about which there has been a great deal of quiet talk, is said to be in the same way. An affort was made in some quarters to have the house rate, which greatly reduced the duties, restored, but this was not done. As indicated in these dispatches some days ago, the senate rate on tobacco will probably stand, and whisky, which was disposed of by the conferrees some days ago, will be put back to the one dollar a gallon provided for in the house bill, with the proviso, however, that the bonded perio: may be extended from five to eight years by the payment, after the end of five years of an additional tax of five cents per gallon per year. It is also understood that the senate provisions on woolens, cotton goods and the metal schedule baye been cut into, but little, compared with the cuts upon which the house insisted.

There are indications that the reason the conferees did not finally settle coal and iron tonight was that the senate members might have an opportun ity of consulting with their colleagues see how the proposition submitted in conference was received.

The latest proposition is to put iron ore on the free list and reduce the duty on coal five cents per annum until it gradually reaches the free list, a proposition that will not be nearly so acceptable as the other, which leaves it untouched for five years A careful canvass of the senate showed the senate conferees that they should not touch coal without imperilling the whole bill, while iron might be tampere with without having any disasterons effect.

When asked tonight what the policy of the minority would be, Mr. Aldrich, the Republican leader, remarked of the minority would be, Mr. Ald-rich, the Republican leader, remarked that they had no policy and would Taraschutt was run over by a car and have none until they know what the Democrats intended to do. With a smile, Mr. Aldrich observed that the Republicans would be about the capitomorrow and would keep their eyes open.
